Archer Electrical

CASE STUDY/RETAIL/ 064 OCT 2016

CLIENT:	BRIONI
LOCATION:	Bicester Shopping Outlet
DESCRIPTION:	Full Electrical Installation
DATE:	October 2016

Archer Electrical are proud to add designer Italian menswear Brioni to their portfolio of retail outlets completed at Bicester shopping village.

We undertook the entire electrical install in conjunction with Reflex Interiors and the clients Italian Architects.

Brioni was established in Rome in 1945 and is known for its made-to-measure men's suits, ready-to-wear collections and leather goods .Brioni has quickly started to raise interest from customers such as high-profile movie and business personalities, heads of state and business leaders. It's a brand that Donald Trump has been loyal to for many years and chose to wear Brioni clothing for the American version of The Apprentice

What the client said:

"Archer Electrical first worked for Reflex Interiors in our undertaking of the MaxMara at Bicester Shopping Outlet in 2011 and we had no hesitation in employing them on this project for Brioni. They are a professional, well organised, company and have helped us to successfully deliver this project to our client."
